

Tao of Equus Meets Tao of Horsemanship

A Collaborative Approach To Developing
Deeper Human-Horse Connections and Communication

Anne Clemson, Epona Approved Instructor with Equinimity LLC, and Caroline Rider, Tao of Horsemanship Practitioner with Rider Horsemanship, Inc., have joined forces to create an introductory workshop designed specifically to enhance both personal and horsemanship sensory, awareness and relationship skills.

June 6 & 7, 2009

WHERE:

Graham Equestrian Center,
Glen Arm, MD

COST:

$350*/Participant

**Does not include accommodations for you and your horse.*

What You Can Expect To Learn:

How to further develop and enhance your own leadership, relational, intuitive and emotional intelligence skills.

How to enjoy and embellish the time you spend with your horse through deeper awareness, embodiment and sensory skills.

How to develop deeper connections with your horse through understanding (and learning to read) the many subtle levels of communication your horse shares with you daily.

How to tap into your potential, and your horse's, to achieve your horsemanship goals

For more information about Caroline please visit: www.riderhorsemanship.com and Anne: www.equinimityllc.com.

To register, contact: info@riderhorsemanship.com.

